

Minor Leagues Accept New National Agreement for the Period Landis Rules Baseball

Class AA Circuits Still Fight Restoration of Players' Draft

National Association to Make Final Disposition of Only Issue To-day; Small Leagues Agree to Jurist as Supreme Dictator of National Pastime

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Organized baseball in the United States to-day virtually was brought under the control of Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis for at least seven years, when the drafting committee of the National Association of Minor Leagues officially voted approval of the new national agreement, already accepted by the two major league committees, which creates the office of a baseball commissioner with supreme powers and with Judge Landis as the first incumbent.

All that remains to put the agreement into effect is the official approval of the various league representatives as a whole, which probably will be given to-morrow. Baseball men to-night said the presentation of the agreement to the club owners to-morrow would be a "done deal," and that the action of the drafting committee virtually constituted formal acceptance by all the parties concerned.

The minor leagues, reported a few weeks ago to be decidedly hostile to the new agreement on the ground that it would not give them a fair deal, to-day found the majors ready to concede the demands made by the smaller circuits.

Minors' Demands Met

Expressing themselves as satisfied with Judge Landis as baseball commissioner, the minor leagues were doubtful as to whether a man agreeable to them would be chosen when Judge Landis's term expired, but this matter was quickly settled by the proposition from the majors that the minors sign the agreement for only seven years—the term of Judge Landis's contract. At the end of that time, if a new commissioner is chosen either a man who agrees with the approval of the minors must be chosen or they may withdraw from the agreement.

The advisory board provided in the agreement to settle baseball disputes will contain two minor league representatives under the new agreement, the other two members to be the presidents of the National and American leagues. When this board is unable to settle any dispute the case will go before Judge Landis, as baseball commissioner, and his decision will be final. The minor league representatives will be selected to-morrow.

The minor league representatives at their meeting to-day voted to restore the draft, but made reservations to the restoration, which does not make it compulsory. Any league desiring may remain out of the draft, and the American Association and the new International League announced their intention of not taking part in the draft. Leagues which do not take part in the general draft will not be permitted to draft players from leagues which do, but may draft from each other. The International League, the only other class A organization, will take part in the draft.

Draft Season October 15 to 20

The draft season was made from October 15 to October 20 and the draft was held in New York City. Class AA, $5,000; class A, $4,000; class A-1, $3,000; class C, $1,500, and class D, $1,000. The draft price of $5,000 for class AA leagues was the one recently suggested by the minor leagues. Many of the minor leagues thought $7,500 should be the price. The minor leagues also established a new salary and salary limits as follows:

Class AA—No salary limit; thirty-five players until thirty days after season opens and then twenty-five. This gives the Class AA player virtually the same rules as are in effect for the major leagues.

Class A—Salary limit of $4,250; player limit of thirty for first thirty days and twenty for the remainder of the season.

Class B—Salary limit of $3,200 and player limit of twenty for thirty days and sixteen thereafter.

Class C—Salary limit of $2,650 and player limit of eighteen for thirty days and fourteen thereafter.

Class D—Salary limit of $2,400 and player limit of eighteen for thirty days and fourteen thereafter.

Failure to live up to these limits will result in a fine of $100 for the first offense, $200 if the case is not rectified in ten days, and then a fine of $300 in addition by the National Board of Control.

Based on Federal Census

The club owners decided to classify leagues on the basis of the last Federal census instead of the school census, and under the following scale:

Leagues with 250,000 to 1,000,000 population—Class B.

National Boxing Association Formed to Control Ring Sport

Delegates From 16 States Vote on Name; Rules To Be Adopted To-day

After an all-day session in the offices of the International Sporting Club in West Forty-second Street yesterday, the sixteen delegates from the various states, the District of Columbia and here to promote the welfare of boxing succeeded in adopting a name. This organization is to be known as the National Boxing Association of the United States. The various committees appointed on Monday really accomplished more than merely to select a name for the association, but that was what was definitely decided on yesterday.

All of the committees reported and considerable progress was made in the matter of organization, in adopting rules and regulations, and in drawing up a constitution and by-laws. A tentative constitution was drawn up, as well as tentative rules and regulations, but none of these will be acted on until this afternoon.

The most important work completed was that of the ways and means committee. These delegates recommended that a national body be organized in the United States to be named the National Boxing Association. The name finally decided upon was that named above.

The committee announced that the purposes of the association would be:

(A) To promote the conduct of professional boxing in the interest of the public welfare.

(B) To formulate rules and regulations which shall be standard and applicable in every state in which legal or public sanction has been given to professional boxing, and which shall be subject to change and amendment by the association.

(C) To consider after competent legal advice, as to whether such National Boxing Association of the United States should be incorporated or chartered.

(D) To agree upon a procedure by which information concerning the disciplinary measures of the several boxing authorities in the United States be communicated to each other and acted upon in concert.

It was recommended that the delegates now constituting this convention, in each of them as may subscribe to the constitution and by-laws.

Penn State Alumni Oppose 'Pro' Football

THE Pennsylvania State College Association of New York through President E. J. Neary, 99, announced last night that it vigorously opposes professionalism in football. The resolution follows: "Resolved, That this association views the growth of professionalism in football as dangerous to the health and interests of this sport and feels that efforts should be made to keep the sport on a purely amateur, collegiate and scholastic basis."

The above resolutions also express the attitude of the board of trustees of the college and also of Coach Hugo Bezdek.

Leagues with 150,000 to 250,000 population—Class C.

Leagues under 150,000 population—Class D.

Classes AA and A—more than 1,000,000 population—will remain as at present.

The annual meeting of the association will hereafter be held the first Tuesday in December, and must take place in a city represented in the association.

To-morrow, besides acting on the new national agreement and selecting its advisory board members, the association expects to take action concerning the proposed change in the name of the five minor league players who were alleged to have played ball on the Pacific Coast "this winter with Fred McMullin, Chicago White Sox player, indicted for alleged complicity in throwing games in the 1919 world's series."

The sales of pitcher Newton by Baltimore to Birmingham and of Sargent, of Buffalo, to Detroit, were announced.

Judge Landis Is "Delayed"

The afternoon session of the meeting of the major and minor leagues committees which were drafting the new national agreement was delayed while through the absence of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, who had been asked to give his opinion to the final draft.

The judge was paged throughout the hotel, and his courtroom was called, but he could not be found. One of the committee members, glancing across the boulevard into Grant Park, saw a group of small boys playing baseball in the warm sunshine. Back of first base was a tall, slim figure, clad in the long black cape and black slouch hat which make Judge Landis recognizable anywhere.

"Sorry to have delayed you, gentlemen," said the judge when a messenger returned with him, "but that's the way of the season and I just had to watch it."

PINEBURST, N. C., Jan. 11.—Emmet French, the Youngstown professional, won a $100 prize to-day by shooting around the championship course in 80 strokes with his putter.

Following the acceptance of the findings of the ways and means committee the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to drawing up a tentative constitution and by-laws.

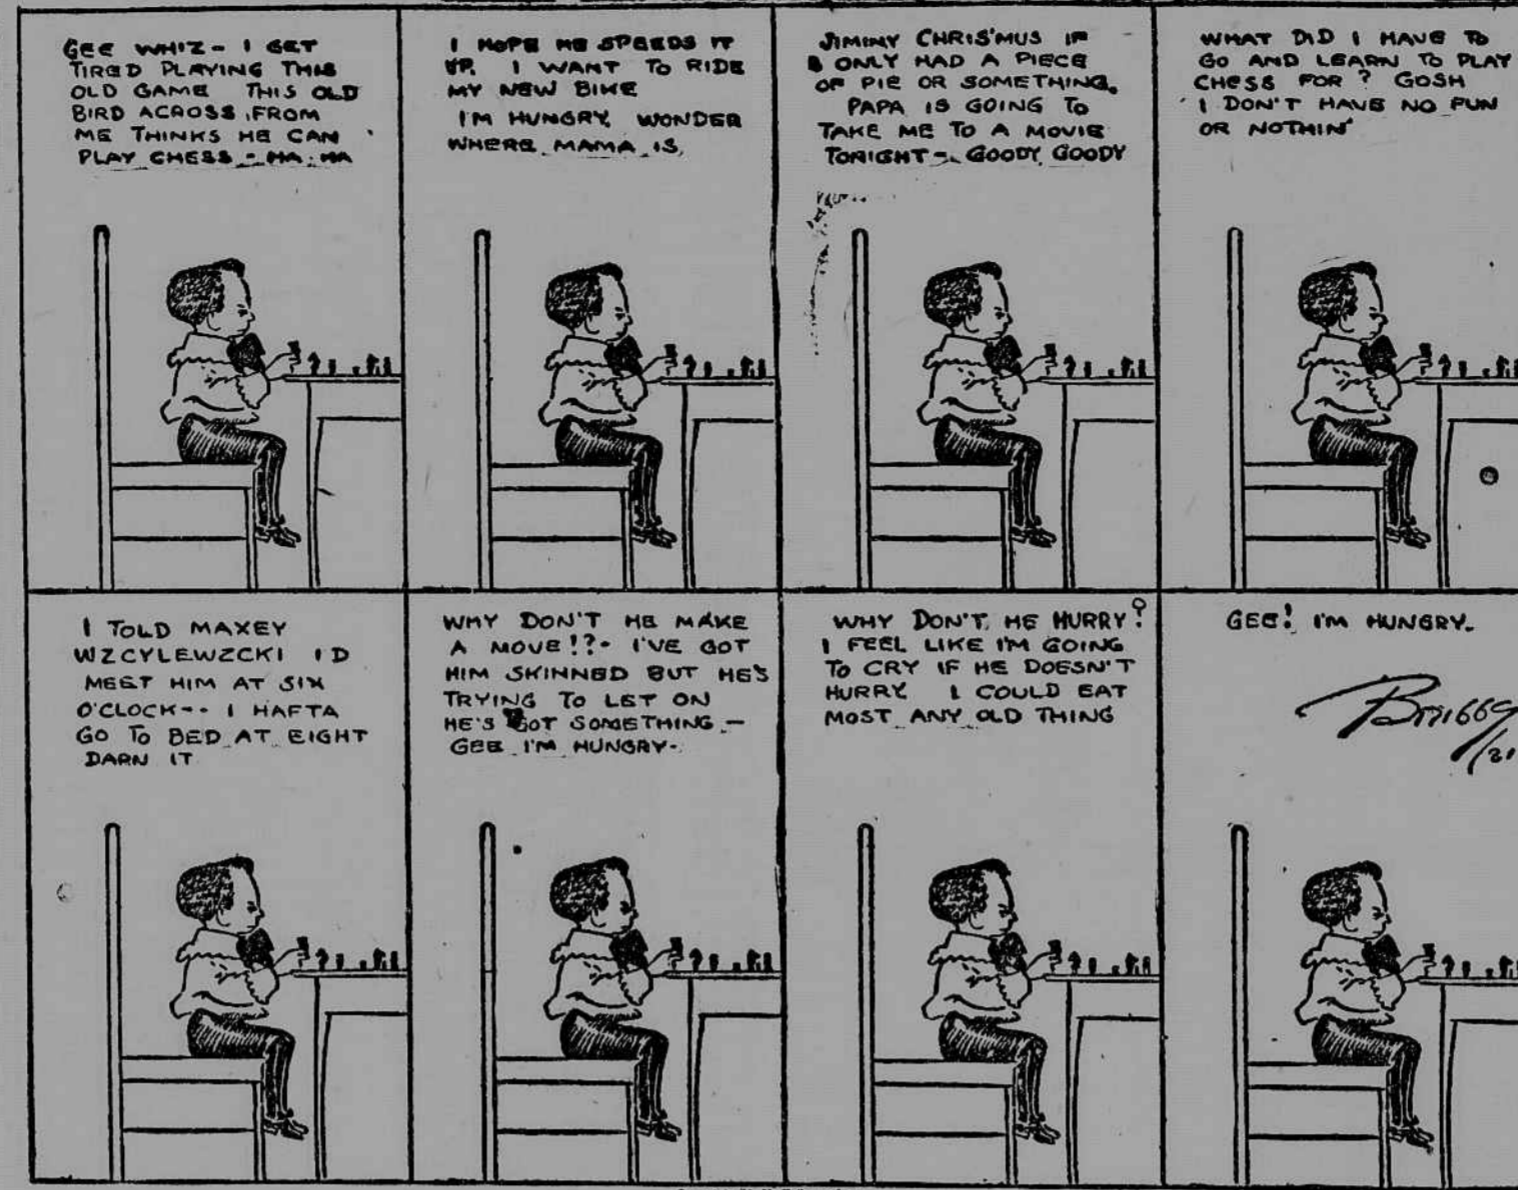

At 6:40 p. m. a motion was made to adjourn, but some of the members not having engagements for the evening demurred, and moved that a recess only be taken. The latter being in the majority, they carried the day, and the delegates went back to work again in the evening, including Willie Kramer, hailing from the way from Arkansas, who, as he put it, "is for three days' hard work."

The night session was devoted mainly to discussion of rules and regulations governing the ring game. These were also tentatively drawn up and will be voted upon this afternoon.

Tiger Basketball Captain Declared Ineligible to Play

From a Special Correspondent

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Princeton was deprived of the services of Captain S. G. Netts Monday afternoon immediately before the game with Columbia, on the grounds of ineligibility. The facts of the case are told in the following statement issued by Howard A. McClennahan, dean of the college:

"S. G. Netts, captain of the Princeton basketball team, was yesterday declared ineligible to represent Princeton in basketball, on the ground that he already has had three years of intercollegiate competition. This action was taken by the committee on outdoor sports, the faculty committee in sole charge of eligibility."

"Netts entered Wittenberg College as a freshman in September, 1914. He played on the Wittenberg team in 1915 and 1916. In the autumn of 1916 he transferred to Princeton, where he remained until he went into the service, in the infantry, in the spring of 1917. He was discharged from the service in February, 1919, and returned to his home in Springfield, where Wittenberg College is situated."

"Because of the ill-health of his father, and in order to fill in his time before returning to Princeton, Netts took some courses in Wittenberg and played on the basketball team for the balance of the year. He returned to Princeton in September, 1919, and played on the basketball team through the season. He has played on the Princeton team up to this time this year."

"The facts in the case came to the attention of the committee on outdoor sports on Saturday last. The committee felt that, in spite of the fact that Netts's second year of play at Wittenberg was during the unsettled S. A. T. C. year, he had clearly had three years of basketball and under Princeton's rules of eligibility had to be declared ineligible for further membership in the basketball team."

Poly Prep Natator Equals 220-Yard P. S. A. L. Record

James Willett Hall, formerly of De Witt Clinton, equalled the school record of 2 minutes 39 seconds for the 220-yard swim, and won in such decisive fashion that two of his three opponents were lapped.

The summaries: 50-yard race—Won by Johnson, Poly Prep; second, Trumble; third, Johnson. 100-yard race—Won by Cork, Poly Prep; second, Dadd; third, Poly Prep. 220-yard race—Won by Hall, Poly Prep; second, Quigley, Boys' High; third, Time, 2:39.

Purely Personal

FRANK FRISCH, the young Fordham collegian who completed his first year under the Big Tent last fall, turned in a batting average of .280 for a starter. In pilfering 34 bases Frisch finished third among the fashionable base runners. Considering the fact that he was waylaid by a counter attack of appendicitis just as he was burning up the trail and thereby thrown from his stride, neither Frisch, Fordham nor the Giants have any loud roar coming. Not a bit of it.

LEO DEIGEL, the young Western golf pro. who came within a stroke of tying Ted Ray in the last open championship, will start his Southern training trip soon in an effort to get away on the hop. Leo has a bale of confidence and a large assortment of useful strokes, including wonderful control over a low pitch to the greens. Leo is a bit fidgety and nervous, but this sprightly temperament doesn't seem to wobble under fire. His form may not be 100 per cent perfect in spots, but there are times when hezell on getting results.

JEAN BRUCE, a wrestler, we see is billed as "The Dangerous Finn." Something seems to be out of focus in this cognomen picture. Jean Bruce billed as "The Slaughtering Scot" would sound more like it. There is an Ivan Somethingorother known as "The Terrible Cossack." The Ivan carries the Cossack, so that part is beyond quibbling. But we never knew a Finn named Jean Bruce or any Jean Bruce who was a Finn. Which is also unimportant, as there are a lot of other things we never knew.

TEX RICKARD says the big heavyweights are the only ones who will suffer in the admission reduction ordered by the New York State boxing commission. But can the big heavyweights afford to stand for any reduction? Jack Dempsey got only $100,000 for meeting Bill Brennan in his last affair, and a star can't be expected to battle for a piker's bit eternally. We haven't heard what Dempsey and Willard together are asking, but we are offering 10 to 1-3 that it is practically enough.

RING W. LARDNER wishes us to announce that when the sportsmen of Long Island start combining golf and skiing this winter he will be among those present. Mr. Lardner's idea of very little to do is to play golf on skis or snowshoes. We second the nomination.

WILLIAM TILDEN has trimmed everybody he could find in the United States, England and Australia. When the war broke out there was a German tennis player lifted off a steamship and planted on the top of Gibraltar. As he has had very little time for anything since except to practice different strokes, he might be able to give Tilden an argument provided he is still at Gibraltar and Bill would like to visit there. Tilden has the field pretty well nailed up with the possible exception of Bill Johnston, who is never nailed up by anybody until the scrap is over.

CARL MORRIS announces that he is coming East to challenge Dempsey. If it is just the same to Carl he can keep on going East another 3,000 miles and challenge Joe Beckett or "Bomby" Wells.

FRED WILLIAMS hasn't received any terrific amount of acclaim, but for all that he is the "Babe" Ruth of the National League. Fred made 15 home runs, which is six more than Hornsby made and more than Ross Young, Eddie Roush, Heinie Groh and Dave Bancroft made together. This sounds bigger than it actually is, as neither Groh nor Bancroft made any home runs. Williams was a few notches below "Babe" Ruth—39, to be exact—but it is at least something to lead one big league in circuit smashes even if you are overshadowed by a Super Swiper who is smashing all records.

JOHN J. EVERS wouldn't tell us where he thought the Cubs would finish, as he had no idea. We can tell you, however, all about the finish of any Cub ballplayer who attempts to loaf on Johnny this season and work only five innings for nine innings' pay.

JACK MOAKLEY, Cornell's great trainer, says he likes the longer 'cross-country courses and the idea of water jumps. It's this way: Jack took up golf a while back and in his devotion to the ancient game naturally likes to see a course trapped in a championship way. Why should a 'cross-country runner be pampered more than a golf player?

NEIL SNOW, the great Michigan athlete who died a few years ago, and Willie Heston were the two battering rams Coach Yost used mainly against Stanford back in 1902, when Michigan crushed the strong Coast eleven 49 to 0. Stanford put up a terrific defense for the first 25 minutes, but Snow finally crashed through for a touchdown, and after that Stanford was demolished. As this game was played with the thermometer above 80, the heat can't be quite so all-important.

Change in Wrestling Schedule MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 11.—A big shift in West Virginia's wrestling schedule occurred to-day, when the Navy met, originally scheduled for February 12, was shifted to the 26th of that month, and favorable negotiations were reported with Virginia to come here February 12.

Keller Next Dempsey Victim PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 11.—Terry Keller, heavyweight boxer of this city, has been selected to meet Jack Dempsey, world's champion, in a six-round bout at Milwaukee, near here, January 28, the Milwaukee Boxing Commission announced here to-day.

Governor to Confer With Sport Writers In Near Future

Special Correspondence to The Tribune

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Governor Miller plans to meet representative sporting writers of New York State newspapers at the executive chamber within the near future to discuss the possible creation of a definite state policy for the conduct of sports.

The Governor this afternoon declared that he would be pleased to take the matter up with the sports writers, but could not say just when the conference will take place. It will probably not be until the Governor has disposed of the more important legislative matters demanding his attention.

It is likely that the Governor will favor creation of a single headed commission to have jurisdiction both over boxing and racing. A tax may be imposed on Sunday baseball. This matter is now being taken under advisement. It is virtually determined that taxes on fees collected under the boxing or racing laws will be gathered in by the new tax collecting bureau, leaving the function of those charged with the enforcement of the law purely regulatory.

Students Bar Athletes Who Played With 'Ringer'

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The Hyde Park High School student jury, weighing testimony in the school's football scandal, to-day reported to Principal H. B. Leonard the recommendation that the football players permitting a "ringer" to play with them in the Lansing, Mich., high school football game last fall be barred from athletics. The jury was composed of twenty students, some of them girls.

"The student body should be called upon for a vigorous support of school athletics," the jury's recommendations said. "Lukewarm support of the presence of a few undesirable on the team and the student code of honor, which forbids informing, were the chief causes for the football dishonesty."

Roy Simpson, captain of the University of Chicago freshman football team, a Hyde Park graduate, played fullback against Lansing and recently was dismissed from the university on charges involving this action.

Columbia Hockey Team Meets Yale Here Saturday

Hockey will be revived at Columbia University this season for the first time since 1912. The Morningside team will meet Yale at 8:30 p. m. Saturday at the Ice Palace, as 181st Street and Broadway. Graduate Manager of Athletics Robert Watt announced yesterday that the game was not on the regular schedule, but came through an inquiry from Yale about an open date.

Although the Blue and White line-up has not been definitely settled Coach Harrison announces that the following men will probably don skates Saturday night: E. Anderson, varsity football backfield man; L. Walker, intercollegiate golf champion 1919; Copper, St. Paul's Prep, player, together with Squires, Church and Parks will complete the team.

There are under consideration home game dates with Princeton, Mass. Institute of Tech., R. P. L., West Point, Harvard, Williams, Colgate and Union.

Harvard Honors Athletes

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 11.—The student council to-day announced the election of its committee on scholarship, and gave all three places to athletes. Robert M. Sedgwick, of New York, varsity football player, was made chairman. John Crocker, of Fitchburg, Mass., an end on the eleven, and Philip Hofer, of Cincinnati, manager of the hockey team, were named with him.

Layton Defeats Parham

John Layton, three-cushion billiard champion, defeated Harry Parham, 50 points to 15, in an exhibition at Thum's Billiard Academy last night. Layton had a high run of 7.

By Jack Masters

The Yale Club continued its march to the team championship of the National Squash Tennis Association by decisively defeating the Harvard Club in the opening of the second round of play in Class B at the Bulldog courts yesterday afternoon. The score was six games to one, F. S. Whitlock being the only Crimson racket wielder to emerge with a victory.

The tie for second place in the league standing was unbroken, as both the Columbia and Crescents clubs won their triumphs, Columbia scoring a 6 to 1 triumph over the Tiger players, and Crescents making a sweep over the Army and Navy representatives.

The resumption of play yesterday was marked by the increased strength of the various teams, many Class A men displacing their clubmates in the line-up. While the National Association does not rule against mixed play, the clubs had agreed that a player who had competed in the Class A tournament would not be eligible for Class B, but yesterday this agreement was squashed and as a result competition was unusually keen.

Thomas Coward and Joseph Walker just to mention are the Yale ranking list, took the court under the new agreement, the former winning with ease from F. S. Ritchie, of Harvard, and the latter losing to F. S. Whitlock, Harvard Class A player. The Whitlock-Walker tussle was a thriller from start to finish, first one, then the other, leading by a narrow margin. The final score was 15-11, 10-15, 15-12.

Harold Conroy, who in the last two weeks has moved from twentieth to tenth place in the ranking of the Yale club, again upset the dope by defeating Murray Taylor, one of Harvard's best players. Conroy weighs about 230 pounds and appeared quite awkward alongside the trim little Harvard man, but the big fellow has an uncanny way of getting about the court, and although he was guilty of many lets, Taylor could not fathom his style and went down to defeat in straight sets.
